

Studying abroad alone
by oneself for the first time would be a tough experience

for a period of time
i felt so lonely
i didn't feel like
myself
i was drowning by depression

then i met my counselor

Mrs

she led me out of darkness

she let me

see the best of

myself

she helped me find my own way to explore

the beautiful world

she gave me
love . confidence
and courage
when i most needed it

i am so grateful
that i met my counselor
the warmest and kindest woman in the world
and i appreciate all the experience i've been through together with her
